THE NOVEMBER CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

At ten o'clock yesterday morning at the Supreme Court, the November Criminal Sessions were resumed before the Chief Justice, Sir W. M. Goodman.

PERJURY.

Ret. v. John Griffiths.
Details have already been published relative to this case. The prisoner, formerly employed as a watchman by Messrs. Panchard, Lowther & Co., was charged, on indictment, with having committed perjury when acting as a witness at the Magistrate's on the 12th and 16th of October last. Prisoner pleaded guilty, but stated that at the time the offence took place he was under the influence of drink.

His Lordship remarked that though it might be possible that the prisoner was drunk when he gave the boatman in charge, he could not admit that this was the case; when Griffiths made the formal charges at the police-court on the 12th and 16th of October last, for, were that so, the Magistrate would certainly have refused to take his evidence. If the prisoner insisted on his statement then he must go for trial. The prisoner then pleaded guilty and withdrew his previous statement. His Lordship reserved sentence and prisoner was removed.

ROBBERY WITH VIOLENCE.

Leung Shin - Hi and Ho Ngau, indicted for robbery with violence from a sampan woman on the 12th November last, were placed in the dock. The crime took place in the harbour of the Colony, and details concerning the same have already been published. The prisoners pleaded not guilty and the following jury was called and sworn:—A. A. Heron, Milroy, W. F. Gardner, C. H. Blason, N. H. Rutherford, A. H. A. Klockner, J. Hunter, and F. M. X. Figueiredo.

The Attorney General, Sir H. S. Berkeley, informed the Court that, three Chinamen, at 8 p.m. on the 12th November, took a sampan for a trip on the water. Profiting by the lonely situation of the woman who was rowing they had set upon, stripped, robbed and thrown her in the harbour. Two gunners of the Asiatic Artillery, attracted by the woman's screams, had rescued her and arrested two of her assailants. The third man escaped. The crime took place at Hung Hom, about 30 yards from the shore. The sampan woman was called and gave evidence supporting the charge. On being questioned, prisoners stated that they had no intention of harming or robbing the woman and that they were only playing. Ali Mohamed and Abdullah Khan, both gunners in the Asiatic Artillery, informed the Court that, attracted by cries for help from the sampan woman, they had waded out to the boat, rescued her and arrested the two prisoners. A Sikh constable then gave evidence to the effect that the prisoners had been handed over to him by the preceding witness, and a loking declared that he had searched the sampan and found some of the missing jewelry scattered about in the boat, and other evidences of a struggle having taken place. This completed the case for the Crown. Both prisoners repeated their previous statements, viz.—that it was all a mistake and that they had only been skylarking with the woman and that it was by accident that her jewelry was knocked off her and she fell into the water. His Lordship recapitulated the facts of the case, and stated that the evidence tended to prove that the plea of the prisoners was without foundation, and that the three men did actually mean to rob the woman, since one of the culprits had got away with some of the stolen property. The jury returned a unanimous verdict of guilty. In passing sentence His Lordship commented on the cowardly nature of the crime and the prisoners were sent to gaol for 3 years with hard labour and to receive 24 strokes with the birch in the first week of their imprisonment.

John Griffiths was then brought in for sentence. The Attorney General rose and requested the indulgence of his Lordship. He stated that the prisoner had been 13 years in the Royal Navy and had joined the R.N.R. in 1894. Of late he had given way to intemperate habits and, at the time the crime was committed, was literally soaked in drink. A moderate sentence would suffice, as the man loses his pension. His Lordship said that the charge was a very serious one and that Griffiths must have been sober when he trumped up the charge at the Magistrate. However, owing to prisoner's previous good record he would take a lenient view of the case and he sentenced accused to three months' imprisonment with hard labour.

The Court adjourned sine die.

THE "EMPRESS"—"KWANG TAI" COLLISION.

PROCEEDINGS IN ADMIRALTY.

Shanghai, 10th November.
Before His Honour Sir Hiram Shaw Wilkinson, Chief Justice and Commander Moore, P.N., H.M.S. Sirius, Naval Assessor.
The Imperial Chinese Government, the owners of the cruiser Kwang Tai v. the owners of the steamer Empress of India.

Mr. A. S. P. White Cooper and Mr. W. North Symonds appeared for the plaintiffs and Mr. E. H. Sharp, K.C., and Mr. W. A. C. Platt for the defendant company.

Mr. Arthur Greaves, cross-examined—Since the collision the Empress had been to Vancouver and back with the same officers. On the night of the collision he left the bridge to make his usual rounds. He walked around for about twenty minutes. He was sure of the time as he looked at his watch. He then made the entry "rounds correct" in the log book. It was hearing the order to starboard which brought him out on the bridge. He had not been on the bridge before that. Mr. Davis saw the junk before he did. He was still of opinion that the junk was nearly half a mile off. He was watching the junk. He also saw the Kwangtai for a minute before the collision occurred. The bow-sprit of the Kwangtai was what is known as a flying bowsprit. He did not take the trouble to see whether there was a jib boom to the Kwangtai. He may have mentioned the matter to somebody that night; since that time he had certainly done so. The Kwangtai struck at an angle of 45 degrees. Asked as to whether he knew the Kwangtai had a ram and as to why she did not ram the Empress, he said it would be necessary for her to run into her at an angle of 45 degrees. His vessel was struck with a glancing blow. In the neighbourhood of Swatow there are always a good many junks about; he noticed a good many about on the night in question; some of them were lighted and some were not. Although he was not quite certain, he thought he saw the junk about four or five minutes before the collision, but he was not quite certain. The distance would be about two thousand four hundred yards, but he was not quite certain. He knew the course—true—the Empress was steering. That would be S. 69 W. Then he saw a steamer on his starboard bow about three points. She was altering her course to starboard, broadening out from the bow. He could ascertain this by the way she was standing out further to the west. He did not take any bearings for the stern light. He distinctly saw the vessel with his naked eye; she was not very close. After going his rounds when he first saw the Kwangtai, he thought his vessel would be about three quarters of a mile off. He had never ascertained how long it took to stop the Empress' engines; he had done so on other occasions on the Empress.

By his Lordship—He went straight into the chart-room after making his rounds; when he came out he saw the cruiser and the junk; the cruiser appeared to be widening out at that time. The order was then given to starboard. The vessel then widened out about four points, certainly not more. By widening out he meant that her stern lights were getting more on the bow. He noticed she was beginning to alter her course as she drew nearer. She kept her bearing for about four points. It could plainly be seen that she had a ram. At this point, it was ascertained that she had three masts. By his Lordship—What about the lights? He saw the masthead lights; that was after the order had been given of "full speed ahead." At that time he was standing amidships; then he went over to the starboard side. He altered his course when he came on the bridge. He was looking at the compass just before the order was given to starboard and before she began to swing. The order was "starboard hard a starboard." It was the duty of the junior officer to report to the senior officer what course should be put down on the log. Knowing already that she had been steering S. 64 W. the course was altered at 11.38 in the log-book.

By his Lordship—Who made that entry? Witness: He did at about 11.40 when he was in the chart-room. Mr. Davis told him the course had been altered when he came in from his rounds. He then looked at the compass and verified it. The vessel was swinging to port about 6 to 7 degrees when he looked at the compass.

By his Lordship—Did you see by the standard compass that the vessel was heading S. 69—Witness could not swear to it, but he was of the opinion that it was within a degree or two of the course.

Mr. H. T. Richardson, duly sworn, said he was a certificated chief engineer, a senior engineer of the R. N. R. and a member of the Institute of Marine Engineers. He had been a certificated chief engineer for about 20 years. He was the superintendent engineer at Hongkong for the Canadian Pacific Company's steamers. He remembered the Empress arriving in Hongkong after the collision. He saw the damage and made a cursory examination and gave orders for the repairs to be made. The Empress was then lying at the company's buoy. He called in Lloyd's surveyor to make an official examination of the damage. All the damage done above the waterline was then surveyed. The vessel was docked three days after arrival; the survey below was then completed. The plan now produced is one specially drawn to show the whole of the damage to the starboard part of the ship, and is perfectly correct. The plan produced is based on actual measurements taken on board the ship. The damage consisted in thirteen indentations on the plates forward. There was also other considerable damage done and which was marked in yellow on the plan. This was damage to the bulwark plating. Slightly under the water line, and a little to the rear is another indentation about five feet under the water line. Right amidships there is a plate stove in. The two plates marked yellow on the plan had been taken out. The plan now produced was not drawn by him, but had been marked by him. In his opinion the damage was caused by the ram. All four plates were badly damaged. Two of the plates had been bent back at right angles. They were bent in the same direction. The first blow of the propeller was not necessarily the most severe. He considered that a slight blow was the first cause of injury. The ships were under a different helm, and in his opinion the ram caused the damage. The real point of the collision was under the bridge. The Empress had been docked nine weeks prior to the accident. He could not say that that these indentations were not made then. Had the engine been going full speed ahead the four plates would have been very badly damaged.

Mr. Newman Marshall was next called. He was late registrar of Lloyd's in Hongkong, he has been surveyor to Lloyd's Register in other places. When the Empress arrived in Hongkong he surveyed her to ascertain the damage done. He surveyed the under part when she was in dock. She was open to the inspection of anyone. When he made the survey, Mr. Richardson was with him. A full written report of the damage was made. The plates appeared to have been deformed by some blunt body; damage was done to the bulwark plating; one plate was very badly dented. It was caused by a very severe blow, two frames ahead of the saloon was also bent; three indented plates were found below the waterline. The damage in his opinion was caused by a hard blow. Immediately above the main deck a plate is fractured. In his opinion the sponson would have caused the injury. Four frames were also battered in and two slightly bent. The plates coloured yellow on the diagram were repaired on board the ship; those coloured in blue were repaired from the shore.

By his Lordship—There was nothing to indicate that the damage was caused by the other vessel coming alongside. The damage might have been caused by a bilge keelson. He did not consider the anchor caused the dent. Had the collision occurred as suggested he would expect to find the Empress considerably more damaged. He could not tell where the body that struck the vessel came from. John Dalrymple, quartermaster of the Empress of India, duly sworn, stated that he was in the employ of the Company for nearly four years; he belonged to the Royal Naval Reserve. He had been fourteen years at sea. His watch, on the night of the collision, was from 8 to 12. The course steered was S. 65 W. by the compass.

pass. He continued on that course for ten minutes before the collision. He heard a report made but could not say what it was. However, he heard an answer from the bridge saying: "All right." Afterwards he received an order to starboard. He heard three orders given in quick succession, viz. (1) to resume his course (2) to starboard and (3) hard a starboard. What he did was to put this helm right a starboard. He heard the engine telegraph ring in the engine-room. He heard the Captain and Mr. Davis shout, "Why don't you stop? As far as he could see, no notice was taken of the shouting on the Kwangtai; he saw the two vessels come together, he was at the wheel at the time. After the collision he went in the second boat to the Kwangtai. He was in a boat when the Kwangtai sank; it was empty and there was plenty of room for everyone to get in. He could not tell what time it was. He heard a report from the crew's nest and then an order to keep the vessel hard a starboard. He kept on that route for a minute or perhaps two. The vessel answered her helm very quickly. He had steered for a long time on board the Empress. He took a careful note of how the collision happened; it was not compatible with his duty to watch the collision.

By his Lordship: He did not see any lights before the collision. He did not see any junk. He had been steering straight on from the time of the collision. Thomas Roberts, quartermaster on board the Empress, said he had been employed on board that steamer for three years. He had been 35 years at sea. On the night of the collision his watch was from 8 to 12. At the commencement of his watch he was standing at the wheel. He heard a report from the crew's nest that there was a light ahead. Then he saw the lights himself. The light was bearing straight ahead. Mr. Davies then gave the order to starboard half a point. The junk was then three quarters of a mile distant. He saw the Kwangtai right on the starboard helm. He heard Captain Marshall say where they were going and why they did not port their helm; he heard no answer.

The magazine was filling with water. He tried to get into the magazine but could not, as there was too much water. That compartment was ten feet square. The pumps were set to work. They were too hand pumps. They could not open the door of the magazine as the force of the water was too great against it. Finally it was broken open, but it was impossible to get inside as there was too much water inside.

His Lordship here called navigating Lieutenant Cheng, and said: I think you told us that your deviation chart was made up in Shanghai and the error you discovered was 5° W.S.W. That card was in your chart-room when you left Woosung. Did you consider it necessary to further test your deviation as you came down the coast?—No.

By his Lordship: When was it that the vessel was swung for deviation?—The deviation table was made on the 15th day of the 6th moon. The date of the collision was the 25th. The vessel was swung near the Custom House at Woosung.

By his Lordship—He left Woosung on the 19th. His vessel lay at Woosung. The deviation table was made up two months ago. The vessel was inside the Woosung Bar; i.e., inside the outer bar, below the Custom House. Japanese coal was being burned; the smoke was blowing a little to the starboard quarter.

Mr. White Cooper—It has been stated in the papers how the Captain was drowned; in my statement I have said he was carried down with the vessel, and in order to make this point quite clear to the Court, I should like to prove it. At first it was said that the Captain had committed suicide.

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1903.

THE BILLY BIT.

There are comparatively few who have been in any way deceived as to the real sentiments of the Chinese Court and Government since the historic return to Peking from the exile in Hsian, and there have been many who have been fully aware that behind all the ostensible courtesy and hospitality lay an undying hatred and cunningly devised schemes for revenge. These schemes, evolved in crude and ignorant minds, have perforce been characterised by a corresponding crudity as, for instance, the old childish idea of driving the foreigners into the sea is still maintained. As part and parcel of this idea the desirability of shifting the royal residence and seat of Government to some rather less accessible place has continually presented itself. Any way the palaces at Hsian, Kailfengfu, and Paotingfu have ever since 1900 been kept more or less in a state of preparation in case of emergencies arising.
There can be no question that the presence of the large Legation Guards, and more particularly the more extensive Legations with their big guns always covering the Palace and its approaches, has kept the Court in a continuous tremor, and in addition to all this, the for ever renewed demand to throw Peking open as a Trading Port has well nigh rendered the position intolerable. The recently signed Treaties stipulate for this latter concession only after such time as the forces are withdrawn from North China, and the guards from the Legations, a sufficiently remote period in Western estimation, to make the contingency hardly worth serious consideration at the present time. The Chinese, however, hug the idea that the time is now rapidly approaching when the "evacuation" by the foreign troops may be expected, and the opening of Peking, therefore, is a much more pressing possibility than we can possibly regard it. It may be taken as a foregone conclusion that if Peking ever was opened it would cease to be the political and Imperial capital, and if China ever does consent so to open it, it will be on the understood condition that the seat of Government moves elsewhere. Of late a deeper anxiety has been experienced in Court and official circles because, instead of calmly maturing plans for the destruction of the powers, the Government have realized that circumstances, in the guise of Russian advance, are gradually closing them in, and they are confronted with the unpalatable fact that whether they do so or not they may be forced to leave Peking in the not far distant future. There can be no question that the past year has been one full of very real difficulties to China, and with a clear mind honestly bent on retrieving past mistakes she might well have grown harassed and weary in the maze of conflicting interests around her. But added to all her foreign complexities there has been this incessant spirit of antagonism and scheming for revenge, none the less deep and real because politically disguised beneath a mask of smiling hospitality, and the condition of affairs in Peking at the present time is little short of chaotic. Intrigues and counter intrigues are multiplying thick and fast, and amid it all it is not to be wondered at if some blundering fanatic betrays the under current of malicious hatred by an indiscreet previousness. Just now the wildest excitement prevails in consequence of the Russian doings at Moukden, and there is loud talk of making a stand against Russia, but the awakening comes too late.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

A PARIS telegram of the 16th inst. to the Cablenews states that M. Berthelet and M.
Berthelet, members of the Chamber of Deputies, have fought a duel. Both escaped unhurt.
We understand that the first batch of 21 subscription griffins for the forthcoming race season will probably leave Shanghai on Tuesday next. There are over 80 griffins expected at various dates before the end of the month.
Mr. J. Keir Hardie, labor member for Merthyr Tydfil, recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, and is now progressing favourably.
The King inquired as to the condition of the sufferer, and sent expression of his sympathy.

THE KAVKAS, St. Petersburg, announces the discovery in the Russian village of Adishi of a

THE Sin Wan Pao gathers that the Authorities of the Mint on the Board of Treasury have decided to cause to have turned out silver coins of five denominations of the respective values of one tael, half a tael, twenty tael cents, ten tael cents and five tael cents.

FULL reports of the Legislative Council meeting, and various functions associated with the departure of H. E. the Governor, together with an extended and revised account of the opening of the Canton-Fatshan railway will be printed in our mail supplement, ready early to-morrow morning.

THE King has approved the issue of letters patent creating the Seychelles—hitherto a dependency of Mauritius—a separate colony.
The formal ceremony of publication was postponed until 7th inst. when Sir C. Bruce, Governor of Mauritius, was to arrive Mr. E. B.
Sweet-Escott, the present administrator of the

THE Commonwealth Government is going to issue a guide-book to British New Guinea, or rather, the Territory of Papua, its new name.
In this publication the resources and potential-ities of the place will be fully described. It is to be extensively circulated in the United Kingdom with a view to developing an interest in Papua among capitalists and intending emigrants.

and thence across Queen's Road to the City Hall. From the City Hall his Excellency will pass down Queen's Road to Clock Tower and through Piddler's Street to Blake Pier. The Derbyshires will be drawn up as a guard of honour.

THE demolition of the old Supreme Court building at Penang is proceeding apace. The appearance of the new Courts will be much improved by it. Nature, says the Penang Gazette, has been anything but kind to the sculptured embellishments of the new Supreme Court building. A short while back a hornet's nest was built under the armpit of the figure of Justice, and now it is noted that the lion in the Royal arms is suffering from the same complaint.

By kind permission of Major Radcliffe and Officers of the Band of the 93rd Burma Infantry will play at the Hongkong Hotel, to-morrow (Saturday) evening from 8 to 9.30 p.m.

A TIENTSIN wire of November 11 says:—The Russian troops are leaving Korea. It would seem that Russia is following out a policy of apparent abandonment of her advantages in Korea. First she dismantled her fortress at Yongampho; now she withdraws her soldiers.
According to a cable received at the Manila consulate from an official source in Japan, the Russians have fallen back from Korea into Manchuria and war is not expected until the spring. But, if peace is not ruptured before then, by some unforeseen complication, it will be ruptured then. Both Japan and Russia are said to be actively continuing their preparations.

THE Russian soldiers at Antung and Ryongan are believed to be making preparations for the defence of these places. Over 200 carts were employed for a fortnight bringing provisions and munitions of war. Three transports (vessels of from 600 tons to 1,500 tons) are discharging large quantities of munitions of war at Ryong-an at present. The Russian soldiers in Manchuria use paper money in paying for their supplies. The notes are depreciating in value daily and the quotation to-day is far below that of the Japanese notes. There is great corruption amongst the Russian troops in Manchuria. As an example, they ask for a receipt for Yio for a payment of Y1. If it often happens that even when they get this illegal receipt they refuse to pay. Everywhere indignation is expressed by the Chinese merchants. Russia has already increased her troops at Ho-o-chen, to 900 with a view to enforcing further interference in local affairs, since the removal of Taotai Yuan. Russia intends to station 3,000 men there in the near future.—Mainichi.

FOOTBALL.

the Hongkong Football Club (Civilians) will play the Garrison under Rugby rules. Kick-off at four o'clock. The Club will play in Stripes.
The following will play for the Club:—

HONGKONG CIVIL SERVANTS

ADDRESS TO H.E. THE GOVERNOR.

The Chief Justice, Sir W. M. Goodman, on behalf of the Civil Servants of Hongkong, attended at Government House this afternoon, and, in the presence of a large gathering of officials and others, presented H.E. Sir H. A.
Blake with an illuminated address, signed by the servants in Government offices. There were present, in addition to Sir Henry and Lady Blake, Sir John Keane, A.D.C., and Sir W. M. Goodman, Mr. A. G. Wise, Hon.
F. H. May, Hon. H. S. Berkeley, Hon. W.
Chatham, Hon. A. W. Brewin, Hon. L. A. M.
Johnston, Hon. Basil Taylor, Hon. Dr.
Atkinson, Dr. Pearce, Dr. Hainett, Mr. Anderson, Dr. T. Bateson Wright, Messrs. C. Mc Messer, S. B. C. Ross, H. P. Hooker, R. F. Johnson, C. Clement, G. A. Woodcock, A. A. Seth, Bruce-Shepherd, J. Henson, H. J. Baker, Jones, and the many other Civil Servants, besides a large number of ladies.

Sir William Goodman assured H.E. of the sincerity with which they regretted his departure, and said they felt they were not only losing an able Governor, but a wise and sympathetic friend (Applause). He afterwards handed him the address, enclosed in a beautifully carved blackwood case, bearing the following inscription on a silver shield "Presented to H.E. Sir Henry Arthur Blake, G.C.M.G., by the Civil Servants of Hongkong, on his departure for Ceylon, November, 1903."

H.E., in thanking them for their kind expressions of regret, said he had no hesitation in saying that nobody of public servants in the wide empire of the crown had done it more faithfully than that in Hongkong. He personally thanked them for the thoroughness of their work which had made his easy and pleasant, and which would, he hoped, reward them in future a due reward for public services faithfully and efficiently performed. The instinct of hard work was amongst them and fair criticism ought not to be unwelcome or disregarded. They had the good fortune of having a press, which he had no hesitation in saying, was not alone independent but as fair a press as he had known in any colony. Its standard was high and it was absolutely free from that scurrility and personality that he had seen now and again elsewhere (Applause). It was a great satisfaction to him to know that in departing from Hongkong he had left some good men amongst them, whose names would be well known in the future. On behalf of Lady Blake and himself, he thanked them most warmly for their kindness, which was most heartily reciprocated. He wished them every prosperity in the future (Applause).

The following is the text of the address:—
To His Excellency SIR HENRY ARTHUR BLAKE, G.C.M.G., Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of Hongkong and its Dependencies, and Vice-Admiral of the Same.

May it please Your Excellency,—Before Your Excellency leaves this Colony to take up the important appointment which His Majesty the King has been pleased to confer upon you, it is the desire of those who have served under you in Hongkong to express their regret at the prospect of your early departure, and the high respect and admiration which they have learned to feel for Your Excellency. All sections of the community must be aware that since your arrival in this Colony in 1898, you have never spared yourself in labouring for its welfare, but none can know this so well as those who have had the privilege of working under your direction.
The period of your administration has been a momentous one in the history of the Colony, and has had its special difficulties and anxieties.
Not only has Hongkong grown steadily in wealth and prosperity, but its area has been largely extended by the occupation of the New Territory. With the advance of the Colony in Imperial and Commercial importance, increased responsibilities and new problems have arisen, demanding from the Governor no small measure of sagacity and administrative skill.
In our own endeavours conscientiously to perform our humble part in the increasing labours of the Government, we have all been cheered and encouraged by the knowledge that the highest example of hard work, energy and enthusiasm has been shown us by Your Excellency; and at the same time we desire gratefully to acknowledge the courtesy, consideration and sympathy which you, as head of the Civil Service, have invariably extended to all its members. The Crown has already recognised Your Excellency's administrative abilities by conferring upon you the highest appointments in several of the colonies of the Empire.
In your administration of the Bahamas, Newfoundland and Jamaica, and here again in Hongkong, Your Excellency has proved that the Royal choice could have fallen on none worthier or better fitted to carry on the high traditions of British justice, integrity, impartiality, and earnestness which, no less than in the mother-country, are so proudly cherished in the King's Dominions beyond the Seas.
The experience gained by Your Excellency during so long a period and in so many Colonies has added year by year to the value of your services. It was therefore with great satisfaction that we, the Civil Servants in this Colony, learned that His Majesty had selected you to be Governor of the Colony of Ceylon, one of the fairest as it is one of the most important of all His Majesty's possessions.
We feel confident that Your Excellency's term of administration in Ceylon will be accompanied by the uniform success which has attended your administration of four other Colonies; and the Civil Service of Hongkong, while regretfully taking leave of a Head for whom it has the highest regard, congratulate the sister-service in Ceylon on its acquisition of so capable, just and considerate a Governor.
In conclusion, we desire to express our heartfelt wish that, not only in Ceylon but elsewhere, Good Health, Prosperity and Happiness may long be granted both to Your Excellency and Lady Blake.

We have the honour to subscribe ourselves Your Excellency's
Most obedient humble servants, [Here follow signatures]

ANCE CO., LD.

The report for presentation to the shareholders at the thirty-seventh ordinary meeting accounts for the year ended 30th April last.

The net premium amount to $1,515,874 72, and the Working Account shows a balance at recommend be appropriated in the following manner:—

A dividend of 16 per cent. to shareholders ($4 per share)$ 96,000.00 A dividend of 15 per cent. on bonus-bearing contributions, (payable to contributors whether shareholders or not) 110,000.00
Balance to Underwriting Suspense Account 285,976.38
$191,976 38

DIRECTORS.

Mr. A. Haupt retired from the Board during the year; Mr. C. Michelau accepted the invitation of the directors to fill the vacancy, and his appointment will be submitted for the confirmation of shareholders.

Messrs. E. Goetz and C. Michelau retire by rotation, and offer themselves for re-election.

SECRETARY.

The directors record with deep regret the enforced retirement—owing to a complete break-down in health at the close of last year—of Mr. W. H. Ray, who had been in the service of the Company for 33 years, and for 28 years its secretary. In view of Mr. Ray's long and valued services, the directors decided to grant him a retiring allowance of £900 per annum.

Mr. James Whittall has been appointed to fill the vacant post.

AUDITORS.

The annexed accounts have been audited by Messrs. H. U. Jeffries and W. H. Potts, the

THE QUEEN OF ITALY'S BIRTHDAY.

The men-of-war in port dressed ship, and fired a salute at midday in honour of Queen Helena of Italy, whose birthday is to-day. All Italians are immensely proud of their young and beautiful Queen who is generally considered to be the best looking of existing royal consorts. Her Majesty is a daughter of Prince Nicholas, Lord of the Black Mountain, ruler of that romantic little principality, Montenegro.
The Calabria, 3rd class Italian cruiser, 2,300 tons displacement, in command of Captain Cartagha Francesco, arrived in the harbour this morning, coming from Shanghai, and exchanged salutes with the Tamar. The Calabria made a particularly fine display in bunting in honour of the occasion.

THE DAIRY FARM CO., LD.

The seventh annual meeting of shareholders of this company was held yesterday afternoon at the company's offices, Wyndham Street.
Present Dr. J. W. Noble, chairman, Messrs. F.
Maitland and E. H. Hinds, Directors, A. Stevenson, Ling Wong, J. Walker, Manager, and S.
A. Seth, Secretary.

The Chairman said:—Gentlemen, the report and accounts have now been in your possession for some days, and I will therefore, with your permission, take them as read. The directors are pleased at being able to present to you so satisfactory a statement of the past year's working. This satisfactory result is very largely due to the absence of any serious outbreak of disease during the period under review—a blessing which (if you had been as long associated with this Company as I have) you will not fail to be thankful for. Our herd is at present in excellent health and condition, and we are continually importing young stock of pure bred from England, America, and Australia, so as to improve and make it as perfect as possible, and thus make the milk, rich as it is, richer still.
We can assure you that at the present moment we believe you possess a herd, the quality and quantity of which is unsurpassed by any dairy in the East. We trust our policy of substantially writing down the value of our cattle will commend itself to you, as it is an almost unvarying necessity when dealing with live stock. With the addition of the $2,000 now proposed to be added to reserve, this fund will stand at $20,000, and we hope, as time goes on to continue adding to this fund. The rapid growth of the population in Kowloon, has induced your directors to open a depot there for the sale of milk and dairy products generally. For this purpose we have leased No. 57 Elgin Road, and we have no doubt this new departure will be greatly appreciated by all Kowloon residents, as well as increase our revenue. We are now in a position to offer sterilized milk in large or small quantities to all those requiring milk so treated. It is intended for the use of young children or invalids, and for those who prefer pure fresh milk on long voyages—this milk, as you all know, will keep sweet for an indefinite period, the sterilizing process destroys all germs the milk may contain. The price of foodstuffs, we are sorry to say, still continues high, and shows indications of advancing still further.
The same might be said of wages. Before moving the adoption of the report and accounts, I shall be glad to answer any questions regarding the same to the best of my ability.

There being no questions, The Chairman proposed that the report and accounts be adopted and passed.

Mr. J. Walker seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

The Chairman proposed that the retiring directors, Mr. F. Maitland and Mr. E. H.
Hinds, be re-elected.

Mr. J. Walker seconded and the motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Stevenson proposed, and Mr. Ling Wong seconded, that Mr. Hutton Potts be re-elected auditor.
